Working together to reopen Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS

We're Reopening Indy— And We Need Your Help

Marion County is making progress in the fight against COVID-19—which means we can start reopening for business on Friday, May 15.

The plan is to open Marion County in phases, with the next phase targeted to begin June 1 if data allows. But the virus is still in our community, so we have to keep making progress before we can move on to the next phase.

That means smart social distancing practices are as important as ever. This all works only if we keep working together!

What's Opening First:

-  Nonessential retail stores may reopen at 50% capacity with social distancing.
-  Beginning May 22, restaurants may open for outdoor seating with strict social distancing guidelines.
-  Malls and individual retail stores within malls may open at 50% capacity with appropriate social distancing.
-  Public gatherings, including religious services, may occur with up to 25 people.

What's Opening Next:

-  Indoor seating at restaurants to begin at 50% capacity as soon as June 1, if data allows.
-  Salons and other personal services are targeted for June 1 reopening with social distancing.
-  Non-essential manufacturing and industrial activities are targeted for June 1 reopening if data allows.
-  Bars, theaters, gyms, museums, and other establishments are slated for reopening in future phases.

A Healthy You is Healthy for Business

-  Wearing a face covering in public, frequent handwashing, maintaining six feet between yourself and others, and other social distancing practices are strongly encouraged.
-  Public gatherings are limited to 25 people or fewer, but high-risk individuals and those over the age of 65 are encouraged to stay home.
-  Remote working for workers who can do so is recommended.
-  Travel should be restricted to essential trips only.
